

ONE FIEND LESS UPON THE EARTH

Richard Ivens Pays the Extreme Penalty for Revolting Crime.

WEAKENS ON THE SCAFFOLD

FATHER NOT ALLOWED TO SAY GOOD-BYE.

Chicago, June 22.—Richard Ivens was hanged here today for the murder of Mrs. Bessie Hollister, the wife of Franklin C. Hollister, head of the large printing establishment of Hollister Bros. The crime, which was committed on the evening of Jan. 12 of this year, was one of the most revolting in the police history of Chicago.

Mrs. Hollister, who was a handsome woman, and prominent in church and social circles on the north side of the city, left her home on the morning of Jan. 12 with the intention of carrying some flowers to the funeral of a friend. She purchased the flowers and performed several errands in the vicinity of her home, but did not appear at the funeral, nor was she again seen alive by any of her friends.

The Body Found.

On the morning of Jan. 13 Richard Ivens, who lived at 1655 North Halsted street, told his father that the body of a woman was lying on a pile of refuse in the rear of his barn. Mr. Ivens at once informed the police and the body, which was identified as that of Mrs. Hollister, was taken to her home. Her clothing was torn and disarranged and she had evidently made a desperate fight before being overcome.

Confession of Ivens.

The conduct of Ivens aroused the suspicions of the police officers, and he was taken into custody, and charged with the crime. He at first denied his guilt, but within three hours of his arrest, made a full confession to the officers. The confession he later repeated at the inquest in the presence of the coroner and on another occasion to the state attorney.

He went into the shocking details of the crime in a cold-blooded fashion that aroused intense popular indignation. When arraigned for trial Ivens denied his guilt and claimed that he had been forced to confess by the police. His defense was an alibi, the claim that he had made the confessions under hypnotic suggestion.

Application to the supreme court for a stay of proceedings, and to the governor and the board of pardons was in vain, and his sentence was carried into effect on the date fixed by the jury at the conclusion of his trial.

His Courage Failed.

The condemned man, until he stood upon the drop, faced death in the same stolid manner in which he conducted himself since his arrest. When he stepped on the scaffold, however, much of his courage failed him. Just before the cap was drawn over his face, he attempted to utter a prayer, but although his lips moved convulsively his voice would not respond and he was not able to utter a sound. It was evident that he was on the verge of a complete collapse, and the sheriff hastened the last details as much as possible in order to avoid such a contingency.

Aged Father Led Away.

Just prior to the execution the aged father of Ivens called at the jail and asked to see his son for the last time. His request was refused by the guards and the father made quite a scene as he begged with tears to be allowed to see the young man once more. It was finally found necessary to lead him from the building.

An aged woman who made her appearance at about the same time as the father of Ivens insisted that the condemned man was about to be hanged unjustly, as her own son had confessed to her that he and not Ivens was the actual criminal. She was detained pending an inquiry into her sanity.

THOUSANDS OF POOR REFUGEES

General Greely Declines to Allow Them to Be Ousted From Reservation.

PROSPECTS LOOKED INTO.

San Francisco, June 22.—Although requested by both the military and civil authorities to oust the refugees from the military reservations, Major General Greely declares that they shall not be disturbed until they are ready to go. In reaching this decision he has not been unmindful of the fact that their presence is both an inconvenience and a danger to the military administration, but nevertheless he does not propose to drive the unfortunate to other camps. He says he will continue to supervise the work of helping the homeless as long as necessary. General Greely has adopted a plan by which he hopes to enable those who are striving to re-establish themselves in more comfortable quarters to do so.

Prospects Looked Into.

Throughout the camps cards have been distributed calling for a statement of the present and prospective condition of each individual. In this way it is expected that the population of the tented cities may gradually decrease until none is left. If an individual has no prospect of employment or if he believes that he can become self-supporting at the end of one, two or three months, he is issued bulk ration tickets to cover that period. Many have availed themselves of this opportunity. When asked the number of people still dependent upon the supply camps for food, General Greely expressed the opinion that there were still about 50,000.

PRESENT DURING THE MASSACRES

Refugee From Bialystok Arrives in Berlin With Details of Horror.

BOMB THROWN INTO CROWD

SLAUGHTER OF JEWS IMMEDIATELY BEGAN.

Berlin, June 22.—An inhabitant of Bialystok, Russia, who was present during the entire massacre there and who has arrived in Berlin, has given the German Hebrew Aid society an account of the recent events there. He said:

"June 14 was the fortieth anniversary of the compulsory admission of many Catholics to the Orthodox church, and a celebration of the event was elaborately planned. The police and military were fully armed, apparently preparing for a conflict. Though there were no visible enemies, the Jews became alarmed and sought hiding places. During the processions of orthodox Russians and Catholics on Thursday an uproar began, and the rumors spread that the Jews had thrown a bomb into the crowd, and were tearing a Russian priest to pieces. The crowd shouted 'Down with the Jews,' and thereupon roughs, armed with clubs, entered the nearest Jewish houses and brought the inmates out, destroying whatever they found within."

Streets Strewn With Victims.

"The streets were soon filled with dead and wounded, the latter groaning frightfully."

"The Jewish shops in the vicinity meanwhile were ransacked, valuables taken away and all portable valuables."

"Some of the officers encouraged the rioters and soldiers in their bloody work, while other officers ordered them to desist, but the latter were seldom obeyed, the discipline of the soldiers generally being loosely enforced. When one officer ordered a number of murderers to leave a place they answered that the governor had given up the Jews and their shops for three days' plunder."

"General Bogajeffsky, commander of the garrison, politely returned the roughs' cheers and shouts with military salute, and another officer congratulated them upon their festival, the rioters replying with vigorous cheers."

Mob Led by Policemen.

"The leaders of the plunderers were not only policemen, but included many of the officials of the Imperial bank."

"The next morning Dr. Reigrotzky received a telegram from M. Branson, a member of the lower house of parliament, saying that Interior Minister Stolypin the previous night had telegraphed to the authorities to immediately check the massacre. Dr. Reigrotzky showed the dispatch to an official, who angrily answered: 'We know when to re-establish order. Do not imagine that you Jews have the Jewish dictatorship of Bialystok.'"

"The rioting did not cease until M. M. Schechkin, chairman of the commission of the lower house of the Russian parliament, appointed to investigate and report upon the massacre arrived at Bialystok Saturday afternoon."

WORLD GRADE ABOUT FINISHED

Burlington's Extension From Frannie in Wyoming Will Be Opened July 4.

CELEBRATION IS PLANNED

WILL CARRY HOMESEEKERS TO SHOSHONE RESERVE.

General Manager G. W. Holdrege of the Burlington at Omaha has just completed a trip over the Wyoming lines of that system. In speaking of the extension from Frannie to Worland, Mr. Holdrege is quoted as saying:

"The grading of the line to Worland is completed with the exception of a little surfacing that will be finished next week. Tracklaying is proceeding at the rate of 12,000 feet per day, the work being done with the tracklaying machines. The track will reach Basin next Monday, and Worland by July 8, or possibly several days before. The grade is a fine one and is in shape to be used for the running of trains as soon as the track is down."

Will Celebrate July 4.

"The line will be finished and in the best of shape before the date for registering for the Shoshone reservation lands. People all through the Big Horn basin country are feeling good over the advent of the railroad. At Basin and Worland big Fourth of July celebrations will be held to commemorate the completion of the road and great times are expected."

"Crops are fine throughout the entire section where water has been turned on. The country is an irrigation proposition and wherever they irrigate they can raise everything produced in the temperate zone."

"It looks as though there would be a great rush of homeseekers to the Shoshone, as this is about the last of the large tracts of land that the government will have to give away. The towns tributary to the reservation are making preparations for caring for the crowds. There will be plenty of hotels where men can be fed and hundreds of tents will be put up in which people can sleep."

TRACKS ARE LAID.

Effective Work Being Done in San Francisco.

The tracks laid on the main streets in the eastern district of the burned section of San Francisco are hurrying the work of removing debris, according to reports that city. These tracks have been laid by the Southern Pacific, Ocean Shore, Atchison, Topeka & Santa Fe, and the United Railroads of San Francisco. The four companies have united for this purpose and will carry out the work as one company. The different tracks and equipment have been placed under the management of the United Railroads, which directs the street car traffic also. Storage bunkers have been built along the tracks to receive the debris and provide a rapid means for unloading the cars. The discarded material is being used to fill in the Islais Creek flats, a haul of four miles. The amount to be moved is approximately 4,000,000 cubic yards. John B. Rogers, chief engineer of the Ocean Shore, is in charge of the work.

Railroad Notes.

FRESH ROASTED COFFEE.

The Oregon Short Line will bring the famous musicians from Montana. The Rio Grande will carry their train from Ogden eastward to Denver. Engagements will be filled at several towns along the route. The band appears here July 3, 4 and 5.

Phil Hitchcock of the Wabash and Seth Rhoades of the Milwaukee, at Denver, were railroad visitors in Salt Lake yesterday.

F. M. Smith of New London is traveling from the coast toward his home on the southern Pacific. Mr. Smith is occupying the special car "Hanol."

Car agents of local railroads are devoting their time to gathering equipment for the numerous excursions slated for Salt Lake resorts during the present season. The Salt Lake Route, Rio Grande and Oregon Short Line have dates filled for weeks ahead.

Word has just been received from J. Cruikshank, chief clerk of passenger accounts in the auditor's office of the Oregon Short Line, that he is recovering rapidly and will probably return to Salt Lake about the first of next month. Mr. Cruikshank is in Portland, where he went to recover from a severe illness covering several weeks.

Commencing Monday the Ontario-Vale branch will be placed in operation. A road has been built from Ontario, on the line of the Oregon Railroad & Navigation company in Idaho, to Vale, Ore., a distance of about sixteen miles. The line was constructed by a company known as the Melheur Valley company. The towns along the route are thriving Idaho farming towns.

Following the Flag.

When our soldiers went to Cuba and the Philippines, health was the most important consideration. Willis T. Morgan, retired commissary sergeant, U. S. A., of rural route 1, Concord, N. H., says: "I was two years in Cuba and two years in the Philippines, and, being subject to colds, I took Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, which kept me in perfect health. And now, in New Hampshire, we find it the best medicine in the world for coughs, colds, bronchial troubles and all lung diseases. Guaranteed at Z. C. M. I. drug department; price 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free."

Summer is here and with it Calder's. Renewed and beautified.

HOOSIERS FED ON MEAT CONTAINING CHEMICALS

Indianapolis, June 22.—As the result of a trip through the city market during which H. E. Barnard, chemist of the state board of health, bought forty-nine samples of sausage, hamburger steak, wienerwurst, bologna, ham loaf, veal loaf, tripe and pigs' feet jelly and analyzed them in the state chemical laboratory, he found that only sixteen samples were legal, while thirty-three of them were illegal because they contained chemicals prohibited by law.

The most frequently used preservative, as discovered in the samples, was that which gave a fresh red color to meat.
